Great start!

The user stories you chose were good, but I'd like to see more fine-grained stories, as you reflect in your review document. Looking at your Trello, there aren't enough stories total. I recommend that your team do some work breaking down larger stories into several smaller ones.

I'm impressed that you implemented a database with most of the content you want and got it up on the server.

Everything looks pretty good to me. I wish you had made the wireframes available on GitHub.

I'm going to let testing go for this sprint, but I expect something next time.
